SMU rallies to change attitudes

Ask first. Speakers at 'Chant Down' say 'rape culture' extends beyond any one university

ALY THOMSON
halifax@metronews.ca

An organizer of a rally at Saint Mary's University to promote consensual sex says the attitudes on campus surrounding rape and equality need to change.

But Lewis Rendell, 20, said she also hoped the rally sparked a wider discussion about rape culture and how the problem isn't unique to SMU.

The rally came after the scandal caused by a frosh event where hundreds of students participated in a chant that glorified the rape of underage girls.

Some of the roughly 150 people at Thursday's rally held signs that read "No Means No No No," and "Ask First."

Before reading an impassioned poem about a rape victim, Halifax poet laureate El Jones pointed out that "the problem doesn't belong to SMU."

"SMU didn't create rape culture," Jones told the crowd. "SMU got caught, but everybody else has been doing it."

The chant prompted the Rendell, a board member of SMU's Women's Centre, said it was also protesting the administration's response to the scandal and seeking increased funding and support.

"We've been speaking out when they've tried to sweep it under the rug," said the third-year student.

Steve Proctor, a spokesman for SMU, said in an email that the school is working with the centre to strengthen

'Interruption'

Brief outage leaves about 30,000 customers without power on Halifax peninsula

Thousands of people on the Halifax peninsula experienced a short power outage Thursday afternoon due to a transmission line problem.

At 2:34 p.m., about 30,000 customers in Halifax had their electricity cut off because of an "interruption on a transmission line," said Nova Scotia Power (NSP) spokesperson Neera Ritcey.

The power was restored 13 minutes later, at 2:47.

"At this point we do not know the exact cause but ... that's very much a priority for us," Ritcey said.

Ritcey said she had no information on whether the interruption happened in a substation or on a transmission line elsewhere in Halifax.

There were several tweets regarding traffic lights that were shut off during the outage, but Ritcey said NSP did not receive any calls related to traffic lights.

Ritcey said Nova Scotia Power does its "very best" to ensure safe and reliable power delivery 24 hours a day.

"Given the complexity of the electrical system, there are issues that arise and certainly it's something that we'll be looking into to see where the issue was," Ritcey said.

Orientation.
Administrations getting involved in frosh week activities becoming 'the norm'

Almost two weeks after students at Saint Mary's University were caught on video taking part in a cheer glorifying the rape of underage girls, universities across Canada are taking a closer look at frosh week activities.

This week, SMU named the members of a special council that will explore issues of sexual consent and how to prevent or reduce sexual harassment.

Wayne MacKay, a law professor at Dalhousie University, was appointed to lead the group.

"The frosh activity is really just an indicator and a sign that there are problems about how women are regarded and what's considered acceptable conduct," he said.

A similar chant was sung during orientation events at UBC, and Memorial University in St. John's issued apologies after the school's engineering society used mugs featuring a cartoon image of a barely dressed woman and the words: "If She's Thirsty ... Give her the Vanessa Hunt of the Canadian Federation of Students says the incidents reinforce the need for work her group has been doing since the early 1990s with "No Means No" campaigns.

"We're seeing across the country a need for this kind of discussion," she said. "It's an issue in regards to the culture at institutions and in society itself when we look at the issues of rape culture."

Ryan Flanagan, director of student affairs at Carleton University, said his school's administration became more involved in orientation after there were student leadership concerns in 2010, which he wouldn't discuss. "It's becoming the exception not the norm that universities aren't having a more significant role, if not outright control, of running the programs," he said.

McNeil denies NDP charge of secret deal with Tories

Election. Backroom agreement during 2008 budget talks secured road work for Liberal ridings: New Democrats Liberal Leader Stephen McNeil is dismissing as "cheap politics" an NDP accusation that he accepted a secret road-paving deal in exchange for supporting the budget of the province's former minority Conservative government back in 2008.

McNeil said Thursday there was no secret deal in budget negotiations between his party and the governing Tories.

"This is nothing more than cheap politics," said McNeil.

He said the Liberals voted for the budget because it included free tuition for five students at Dalhousie University's medical school in exchange for them working in rural areas, and it retained a rebate program that helped those with low incomes heat their homes.

"If the NDP think I'm prepared to sell my reputation for three kilometres of paving, it's ridiculous," McNeil added.

Finance Minister Maureen MacDonald released what she said was a government email that listed road work in six Liberal-held ridings. She said $4 million to pave about 16 kilometres of road was added to the capital budget six days after the legislature took its summer break on May 27, 2008.

The email is dated June 2, 2008, but it doesn't show who it is from or who received it.

MacDonald said it was a government email that had recently come to the NDP's attention, but she wouldn't say how the party came in possession of the correspondence or who was involved in the original exchange.

Conservative campaign targets bullies

Progressive Conservative Leader Jamie Baillie appeared at a Halifax-area middle school to mark Pink Shirt Day on Thursday.

Baillie said his party would adopt a tough stance when it comes to dealing with those who bully in schools or over the Internet.

He highlighted three pieces of legislation the Tories proposed in 2012, which included defining bullying in law, providing penalties for offenders and giving judges the power to order restrictions on the use of electronic devices.

the details. We have the information and I'm presenting the information," said MacDonald.

She said the budget passed in 2008 reinstated the harmonized sales tax on the home-heating rebate. The email makes no mention of the HST.

McNeil said it was simply a desperate move to attack his reputation barely a week into the campaign, adding that the government isn't willing to run on its record.

Meanwhile, both the Liberals and the NDP announced initiatives aimed at courting the student vote on Thursday.

During a stop at Dalhousie University, McNeil said a Liberal government would implement a program where about 300 graduate-level students would be awarded scholarships annually in an effort to stimulate research in innovation at universities.

McNeil said the scholarships would be worth $10,000 to $15,000.

Premier Darrell Dexter visited a new Halifax subdivision to highlight an NDP program that would make it easier for college and university graduates to buy their first homes.

Dexter said the program would involve setting flexible mortgage terms with Housing Nova Scotia in order to fit a recent graduate's ability to pay.

He said the details of the program would be worked out in consultation with student groups in advance of its startup in 2014.

Body found in Halifax harbour identified

Local news. Ontario man reported missing by family last November is found, foul play not suspected

halifax@metronews.ca

Police say the body found floating in the Halifax Harbour last week has been identified as that of a man who has been missing since last November.

Halifax Regional Police said the remains of the 22-year-old Ontario resident were recovered from the water behind Purdy's Wharf on Upper Water Street last Wednesday.

"We were able to identify him through dental records."

Halifax Regional Police Const. Pierre Bourdages.

A passerby contacted police after seeing an object floating in the water.

Const. Pierre Bourdages said the man, whose name is not being released at the request of the family, was reported missing last November in Ontario.

Bourdages said he was identified through dental records after an autopsy. He added foul play is not suspected.

"We were contacted by the family of this individual with a description of what he was wearing when he was reported missing," said Bourdages.

Bourdages said he couldn't say how long the body had been in the water, but it's possible it was as long as nine months.

He said the man went into the water in Halifax, although he didn't know why the man would have been in the area.

"The body could have been at the bottom of the harbour and re-surfaced, or it could have been floating ever since. There's various hypotheses of where the body could have been," said Bourdages.

"Shortly before 2 p.m., the individual was located in Dartmouth," said Bourdages. "The firearm was confirmed to be a replica and he was using it as part of a photo shoot."

Gordon Pinsent: The grandfather of seduction

Atlantic Film Festival.

Acting legend walks the red carpet for the gala opening

It's not the deep voice, or the wide smile: Gordon Pinsent's finest asset is his hanky.

Pinsent walked the Atlantic Film Festival's red carpet Thursday night at the Park Lane cinemas before the screening of his film The Grand Seduction, and said his own romantic weapon is the pocket handkerchief.

"There's always something nice about it," the 83-year-old said with a wink. "Having something up here that says, 'Hey, that's there for you. You're special.'"

Filmed in Pinsent's home province of Newfoundland, the movie revolves around a small town attempting to lure a young doctor to stay so it can land an oil contract.

Director Don McKellar said it was special to open the festival with an East Coast movie because it felt like "a homecoming" for the team, which shot in Trinity Bay last year.

"It was the most beautiful, sunny summer," McKellar said. "I was worried people would think we shot it on Lake Ontario; the ocean's so calm."

Mark Critch of This Hour Has 22 Minutes appears in the film, and said while it could have been easy to slip into wacky stereotypes, Pinsent and Irish actor Brendan Gleeson kept everything "grounded."

"It has a very realistic tone that makes the more serious moments shine, as well as the comedy," Critch said.

He also learned never to underestimate Pinsent's batting arm. Critch said a favourite memory from the set was the cast hitting rocks into the sea with driftwood.

"Gordon takes off his coat and says, 'I'll show you how to hit a bloody rock,'" said Critch in a deep voice, shrugging off his own jacket.

"(He) throws it in the air and just pops it, and it goes off into the fog and then you hear the sun go 'Ow.'"

Pinsent said he had many favourite Halifax spots years ago, but is now on a different mission.

"I'm looking for non-alcoholic single-malt Scotch, so if you hear about it let me know," Pinsent said with a grin. HALEY RYAN/METRO

Possibility of flooding. Tropical storm Gabrielle heading to the Maritimes

Tropical storm Gabrielle is expected to bring heavy rain to parts of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island on Friday.

Environment Canada says a rainfall warning will be in effect for parts of central and northeastern Nova Scotia, and Queens and Kings counties in P.E.I., with local rainfall amounts of up to 70 millimetres and, in some areas, possibly as much as 100 millimetres.

It says these rainfall amounts could cause localized flooding.

Wind gusts in eastern Nova Scotia and Cape Breton are forecasted to reach up to 90 kilometres an hour on Friday night.

Forecasters say Gabrielle will reach western Newfoundland on Saturday morning when it could merge with another weather front.

Rainfall warnings were also issued for parts of northwestern New Brunswick, but those warnings were associated with a separate weather system.

Still, the New Brunswick Emergency Measures Organization said people in the Perth-Andover, Grand Falls and Florenceville-Bristol areas should prepare for localized flooding.

The Canadian Hurricane Centre in Halifax said the storm was northwest of Bermuda on Thursday.

"The storm centre itself is not expected to have much of a direct impact on the region," the centre said in an information bulletin. "What is left of Gabrielle's wind will likely clip eastern Nova Scotia Friday night."

23-year-old dies in brutal collision

A 23-year-old man from Sydney Mines has died after a head-on crash on Highway 125 in Sydney River on Thursday morning. At about 8:25 a.m., police say a car travelling eastbound collided with a dump truck travelling westbound. Following the impact, the truck landed on its side. The victim was driving the car, police say. The driver of the truck suffered serious injuries. CAPE BRETON POST

Cape Breton man who attacked cop given jail time

A man who attacked a police officer earlier this week in Cape Breton has pleaded guilty to causing bodily harm to a police officer and breach of probation.

Andrew Joseph Pottie was sentenced to six months in jail and 12 months probation during a hearing Wednesday in Port Hawkesbury provincial court.

The Mounties say an officer was trying to arrest the 36-year-old man for a breach of a court order along Highway 4 near River Tillard before he assaulted the officer and fled.

He was arrested about an hour later with the help of a police dog.

Voyager 1 the first spacecraft to leave the solar system: NASA

New frontier.

It took 36 years, but Voyager 1 is now cruising through interstellar space

Voyager 1 has crossed a new frontier, becoming the first spacecraft to leave the solar system, NASA said Thursday.

Thirty-six years after it was launched from Earth on a tour of the outer planets, the plutonium-powered probe is more than 18.5 billion kilometres from the sun, cruising through interstellar space — the vast, cold emptiness between the stars, the space agency said.

Voyager 1 actually made its exit more than a year ago, according to NASA. But it's not as if there's a dotted boundary line or a signpost out there, and it was not until recently that scientists with the space agency had enough evidence to say that the probe had finally plowed through the hot plasma bubble surrounding the planets and escaped the sun's influence.

While some scientists remain unconvinced, NASA celebrated with a news conference featuring the theme from Star Trek.

While Voyager 1 may have left the solar system as most people understand it, it still has hundreds, perhaps thousands, of years to go before bidding adieu to the last icy bodies that make up our neighbourhood.

Voyager 1 will now study exotic particles and other phenomena in a never-before-explored part of the universe, littered with ancient star explosions, and radio the data back to Earth, where the Voyager team awaits the starship's discoveries.

A space odyssey

Voyager 1's odyssey began in 1977 when the spacecraft and its twin, Voyager 2, were launched on a tour of the solar system.

- After beaming back dazzling postcard views of Jupiter's giant red spot and Saturn's shimmering rings, Voyager 2 hopped to Uranus and Neptune. Meanwhile, Voyager 1 used Saturn as a gravitational slingshot to power itself past Pluto.
- Voyager 1, about the size of a subcompact car, carries instruments that study magnetic fields, cosmic rays and solar wind.

Semantics. Nude bike pitch alters city bylaw

A case of two women wanting a parade permit to ride naked through Winnipeg last year has led to a change in a city bylaw.

On Thursday, Winnipeg Police Service officials spoke in favour of amending a traffic bylaw to include bicyclists as well as pedestrians in the definition of a parade.

Patrol Sgt. Kevin Cisaroski, the police's special events co-ordinator, said the bylaw "didn't address bicyclists at all."

He said that exclusion prevented police from having the authority to issue parade permits for cyclists, meaning bikes had to continue to abide by the Highway Traffic Act, with no side-by-side riding and the required stopping at red lights and stop signs.

As for the naked ride, a permit was not issued, and "it still isn't allowed," said Cisaroski. BERNICE PONTANILLA/METRO IN WINNIPEG

Ex-Hutterites pen book alleging corruption, sexism, puny wages

From left, Darlene and her husband Titus Waldner, Glenda Maendel and Karen Waldner are four of the nine former Hutterite colony members from Manitoba and North Dakota who've written a tell-all book. SHANE GIBSON/METRO IN WINNIPEG

A group of former Hutterite colony members from Manitoba and North Dakota are peeling back the veil on the societies traditionally closed off to the modern world.

Seven years after each individually decided to escape — a move that has caused their communities and much of their families to shun them — the group of nine has published a tell-all account of their sheltered lives.

"This is actually exposing the Hutterites," explained Glenda Maendel, adding their book was written as much for those still living in colonies as it was for those on the outside.

"The mindset you had there was that everything is evil out here and you'd go to hell if you leave the colony."

"It's for people to see that there is hope and freedom out there."

Allegations

Co-author Glenda Maendel

Hutterites: Our Story to Freedom was released in August, and each of the former members takes a chapter to tell their personal story. The accounts describe a corrupt system of sexism, favouritism and unfair wages, in which members work for $3 to $5 a month while the colony coffers grow.

"We love the Hutterite people, but it's the system that ruins the people," said Maendel.

The book also looks at the struggles each of the nine went through after leaving their communities for a new world with nothing but the clothes on their backs.

"It took years to adjust," said another of the authors, Titus Waldner.

"Inside the colony you're not invited to express yourself as an individual.... To come out of that and now just start being open and sharing and know who you are as a person — it doesn't happen overnight."

Manners manual

Eating? Drop the phone

Wendy Mencil gave Metro a guide to 21st Century politeness pitfalls.

Texting at the dinner table

"Put your cellphone away if you're having a conversation," said the expert.

"People talking on their cellphones in a nice restaurant very loudly are not polite."

That goes for at home, too. Many young people simply don't know they should put their phones away when they eat.

Show respect behind the wheel

"I see some pretty aggressive driving," Mencil said.

"People cut one another off. Try and think about the other driver.

"Try to be polite, and maybe you could let people in front of you."

Wedding cash grabs

"Something I see a lot now is people asking for money when they're getting married," Mencil said. "A lot of brides put 'Cash only' or 'Please donate towards our honeymoon.' That's just tacky."

Metro's mistake

After considerable persuasion, Mencil eventually agreed to point out a mistake made by Metro's reporter during the interview.

"You said, 'No problem.' That's an etiquette mistake," she explained. "I'm thanking you, and you should say 'You're welcome.' To say 'No problem' means you have been inconvenienced, and you haven't." Point taken.

Beating bullies with the power of politeness

London, Ont. Etiquette school to show kids they have the power to cope — and succeed

MIKE DONACHIE
Metro in London, Ont.

Sometimes there's nowhere to run.

What does a child do when faced with a bully and they have nobody to turn to? A new initiative in London, Ont., has the answer: It's all about etiquette.

"We want to teach children how to put their best foot forward despite whatever circumstances they are facing," said Wendy Mencil, director of the city's newly established Canadian School of Protocol and Etiquette.

"For instance, helping children with their social skills helps against bullies," she said. "The initiative in the school system is: Walk away and tell an adult, but sometimes there's no place to walk away to and there's no adult."

"What do you do in that situation?"

The answer, she says, is to stand up to aggressors — politely.

"Bullied people will instinctively look down. We teach them to look people in the eye and say 'no,'" Mencil said. "We teach social skills that will help in any situation, that let people understand you mean business."

It's all about giving the confidence to cope in any situation, whether it's a schoolyard clash or an evening of fine dining.

Mencil, who's a certified etiquette consultant and an Anglican minister, explained: "This isn't about learning how to curtsy or how to sip tea with your pinkie out — which you should never do, by the way, because it's bad etiquette."

"It's about equipping children with social skills that in a very competitive global market will help them to succeed."

Mencil's driven to help young people, and she's direct about why.

"I want to teach children that they don't have to be a victim of bullying," she said. "They have the skills and the tools within themselves to deal with it."

Toronto cop guilty of assault with a weapon

G20. Judge said the officer was trying to 'justify his blows' when he claimed only to be responding to resistance

The criminal conviction of a Toronto police officer for assaulting a protester during the G20 summit three years ago is being hailed as a victory for the hundreds of demonstrators who were rounded up and arrested that weekend.

Const. Babak Andalib-Goortani was convicted Thursday of assault with a weapon after a judge found

Assault victim Adam Nobody

he used excessive force during the arrest of protester Adam Nobody on June 26, 2010, at the legislature.

Andalib-Goortani didn't need to forcefully jab Nobody with his baton several times as his fellow officers were trying to cuff the man, Ontario Superior Court Judge Louise Botham found.

"A police officer is not entitled to use unlimited force to affect an arrest," she said.

Video of Nobody's arrest shows him on the ground with officers piled on top of him. Andalib-Goortani's explanation "that he was responding to Adam Nobody's resistance is nothing more than an after-the-fact attempt to justify his blows," said the judge. Nobody clapped as the verdict was announced. A sentencing hearing is set for Nov. 8. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Residents try to put out a fire that gutted about 30 homes in Zamboanga city in the southern Philippines Thursday. The blaze was sparked as government forces launched a fierce assault on Muslim rebels.

Philippine crisis. Muslim rebels with 100 hostages warned by government to end four-day standoff

The Philippine government on Thursday warned Muslim rebels who have been holding more than 100 people hostage in a southern port city to peacefully end the four-day standoff "at the soonest possible time," saying its forces are ready to demonstrate the state's resolve.

It was the toughest talk by President Benigno Aquino III's administration since Moro National Liberation Front guerrillas occupied coastal communities and took scores of residents hostage in Zamboanga city.

Presidential spokesman Edwin Lacierda said any attempts by other groups to sow trouble would be crushed, citing the army's defeat of an extremist group's attempt to set a nearby village and wharf on fire.

The most serious security crisis to hit Aquino's administration began Monday when about 200 armed Moro rebels, who have been overshadowed by a rival group in talks with the government for a new Muslim autonomy deal, clashed with government troops who had foiled their plan to march through Zamboanga city and hoist their flag at city hall.

They then barged into five coastal villages and seized scores of residents to use as human shields as hundreds of elite army troops and police surrounded them.

Syria agrees to Russian plan on chemical weapons

Syrian President Bashar Assad publicly agreed Thursday to a Russian plan to secure and destroy his chemical weapons, but said the proposal would work only if the U.S. halts threats.

Assad also said his government will start submitting data on its chemical weapons stockpile a month after signing the convention banning such weapons while the UN said Thursday that it received a letter from Syria stating its intention to join.

The treaty states that a nation becomes a party 30 days after such a letter is submitted. Syria had long rejected joining the Chemical Weapons Convention.

U.S. officials want a speedier accounting.

"We agreed ... in response to Russia's request and not because of American threats," Assad told Russian TV.

DEA: 30 kilos of cocaine headed for Alberta town

Seven charged. Most accused believed to be members of a Mexican Mennonite community with ties to infamous Juarez drug cartel

JEREMY NOLA
Metro in Calgary

American drug-enforcement officers allege a southeast Alberta hamlet was the destination for a haul of cocaine being moved through a pipeline involving the Mennonite community and a notorious Mexican cartel.

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) laid charges against seven people in relation to the alleged trafficking operation this week. It's believed all but one of the accused were members of a Mexican Mennonite community in the state of Chihuahua and had direct links to the Juarez drug cartel, widely considered to be one of the most brutal criminal organizations in the world.

The drug bust involved 11,000 pounds of marijuana that agents believe was to be distributed to various states in the U.S. and 30 kilograms of cocaine that DEA Assistant Special Agent in Charge Kevin Merrill said was bound for Grassy Lake, Alta., a small hamlet located about an hour east of Lethbridge.

"We had targets that we had identified through phone records that they were talking to up there," he said, adding more charges in connection with the drug bust were possible.

Merrill indicated his organization worked with Canadian authorities, but a request for comment from RCMP's federal communications office had not been returned at press time.

Mennonites are members of a church that has been around for nearly 500 years, according to a national website.

"Today, you won't recognize most Mennonites by how they dress," the posting reads. "But you will find vibrant Mennonite congregations through rural areas, small towns and large cities across Canada and throughout the world."

Southeastern Alberta in particular became a common migration point for Mennonites from Mexico and Bolivia in the 1990s. According to 2001 census data, the total Mennonite population in Alberta was 22,785 and in some smaller towns and hamlets, including Grassy Lake, the community can account for up to three quarters of the population.

Merrill said Mexican cartels tend to rely on family ties or close friends when it comes to their trafficking operations because, "It limits the number of people, if they get arrested, that will co-operate against them."

Florida. Charges possible after suicide of 12-year-old girl who was cyberbullied

A 12-year-old girl committed suicide after she was bullied online, and a sheriff said Thursday that he is investigating whether he can file charges under a new Florida cyberbullying law.

Sheriff Grady Judd said that Rebecca Ann Sedwick jumped to her death on Monday. Investigators say the girl was despondent after others had posted hate messages about her online. Sedwick was "absolutely terrorized on social media," Judd said.

The Lakeland Ledger reports that detectives found multiple social-media applications where Sedwick was constantly bullied with messages, including "Go kill yourself," and "Why are you still alive?"

He said parents of all 15 girls have co-operated with detectives and several cell-phones and laptops have been confiscated. Judd said charges could be filed — including cyberstalking.

Anger in Kashmir after protester killed

Indian policemen detain Kashmiri supporters of the Awami Ittehad Party during a protest against a fatal paramilitary shooting in the disputed territory in Srinagar, India, Thursday. Shopian District Deputy Commissioner Bashir Ahmed Bhat said a man was killed Wednesday when forces fired pellets at protesters. Residents insist the troops were firing bullets at the crowd protesting near a police camp about 50 kilometres south of Srinagar.

QUALITY HOMES THAT STAND OUT

Greg Hammond had already been building quality homes for more than a decade when he founded Destiny Homes in 1999. Today, his company builds quality homes in HRM.

“We specialize in smaller scale,” he says. “We try to build unique homes that really stand out, in style, quality and eco-efficiency.”

In addition to his experience as a home-builder, Hammond has managed projects, negotiated contracts and supervised field activities on many large-scale projects, including the Confederation Bridge and major Nova Scotia offshore oil and gas projects. He is pleased to be involved with the Perry Pond development.

“It’s a great subdivision, private, tucked out of the way with well treed lots,” he says. “We think it’s going to be very unique when it’s finished, and we’re building unifying homes to reflect that.”

The three Destiny homes now nearing completion feature unique trim work, custom stone exterior elements, stone fireplaces, hardwood staircases, quartz countertops and more. Most are based on an intimate open concept.

“We use some of the best craftsmen in Metro, and it shows.”

Hammond says the land itself should dictate how best to develop it. Work with it in its natural state is a key to the end result.

“We’ve built a lot of custom homes on oceanfront lots over the years, so it has helped us gather experience working with the natural landscape.”

Attention to detail is the key. Destiny Homes limits the number of developments it works on, building about 40 homes per year so it can deliver an individual level of service to every customer.

“We maintain a personal touch,” Hammond says. “I answer the phone myself and I meet with our clients one on one.”

As the first homes at Perry Pond are completed, Destiny has an additional five lots ready on which to build. Some have water frontage on the subdivision’s namesake pond.

TAKE A TOUR OF SKYMARK HOMES

From humble roots as a small builder in St. John’s, N.L., Skymark Homes has grown over the last three decades to become one of the largest new homebuilders in Atlantic Canada, an industry leader in new home construction and neighbourhood developments for executive and family living with offices in Halifax and St. John’s.

Skymark is one of just two builders involved in the new Perry Pond development in Hammonds Plains.

“We have 18 lots in Perry Pond,” says Skymark general manager Evan Collins.

Skymark has created a unique service called “Take the Tour” for discerning homebuyers who want to delve into the construction process a bit more. Take the Tour participants visit five homes under construction to see each stage of the building process: The foundation; the building envelope; servicing; energy efficiency; and finishing.

“Most of our customers see the finished product but they don’t really know what goes into a home under the surface,” Collins says. “Take the Tour is a way for us to demonstrate the quality of our product at each stage.”

Other unique customer services include a sales centre open daily where homebuyers can come in talk about their new home.

“We can also open the sales centre after hours at our clients’ convenience,” Collins says.

And Skymark has a home buyout plan that will purchase the client’s existing home for cash before the building process begins.

“We also offer a buyback program,” Collins says. “If a customer is not satisfied with the home we build for them, we’ll buy it back.”

To date, no one has taken the company up on that generous offer.

Collins has personally built more than 500 homes in his career. He says Skymark focuses on quality and affordability, a focus that has won the company numerous awards and an A rating with the Better Business Bureau.

“We have a wide range of customers, from the first-time homebuyer to well-established professionals looking to build their dream home.”

GRAND OPENING

A grand opening open house and barbecue is scheduled for Sunday from 1-4 p.m. The open houses will be held at 40 Bonsai Dr. (Skymark) and 166 Bonsai Dr. (Destiny), while the barbecue will take place at the park on Bonsai Drive.

PLENTY OF APPEAL

Perry Pond is the newest neighbourhood in the growing community of Hammonds Plains and one of the most appealing — a master-planned community tucked into a lush corner near the intersection of Hammonds Plains Road and Pockwock Road.

It’s country living with all the conveniences of the city, says Chris Fourgnaud, vice-president of sales and marketing with Armco Capital.

“Convenience is really the first word that comes up,” Fourgnaud says. “It’s easy to get to Highway 102 and Highway 103, it’s close to grocery stores and shopping, and there are excellent schools nearby.”

Perry Pond also represents a level of intimacy that is unique in the area. With a small number of building lots located on two courts, the properties have been kept well treed and well spaced. Some lots also feature water frontage on Perry Pond. Two local companies — Skymark Homes and Destiny Homes — have been chosen by Armco as principal builders.

“It’s ideal for families looking for a quality neighbourhood to live in,” Fourgnaud says. “Perry Pond has plenty of appeal.”

Run the rat race at your desk

On the move. Growing number of employees are standing, walking, cycling through the day at active stations

Glued to your desk at work? Cross that off the list of excuses for not having time to exercise.

A growing number of Americans are standing, walking and even cycling their way through the workday at treadmill desks, standup desks or other moving workstations. Others are forgoing chairs in favour of giant exercise balls to stay fit.

Walking on a treadmill while making phone calls and sorting through emails means "being productive on two fronts," said Andrew Lockerbie, senior vice-president of benefits at Brown & Brown, a global insurance consulting firm.

Lockerbie can burn 350 calories a day walking about five to six kilometres on one of two treadmill desks that his company's Indianapolis, Ind., office purchased earlier this year.

"I'm in meetings and at my desk and on the phone all day," he said. "It's great to be able to have an option at my work to get some physical activity while I'm actually doing office stuff. You feel better, you get your blood moving, you think clearly."

It's been a decade since scientific studies began to show that too much sitting can lead to obesity and increase the risk of developing diabetes, high blood pressure and heart disease. Even going to the gym three times a week doesn't offset the harm of being sedentary for hours at a time, said Dr. James Levine, an endocrinologist at the Mayo Clinic.

BY GEORGE! WHAT A CURSE

Those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer are over, and now it's time to pay attention. So, if you're wondering what to pay attention to...

1 Charter chowder. The Parti Québécois unveils its "charter of values," banning the wearing of religious symbols on the job for the province's civil servants. No burkas or turbans or yarmulkes, please. The charter has already claimed its first victim, MP Maria Mourani, who was kicked out of the Bloc Québécois caucus for daring to disagree with her fellow separatists, calling the charter a "political miscalculation." It is that, never mind what else it is.

2 iPhone. Apple unveils its latest iPhones to the usual media frenzy. One is "cheap," just under 100 bucks in the U.S., while the other is so expensive, it induces nosebleeds. But you can lock it with your fingerprint, so you'll never have to worry about forgetting your passcode as it comes permanently attached.

THE METRO LIST

3 Hockey Night in Canada, almost. The boys of summer are still out there tearing up the grass, but the boys of winter are already back at the rink getting ready for a 1,230-game season that culminates on April 13, 2014, in the final game between the Dallas Stars and the Phoenix Coyotes. And then the playoffs begin. Are you ready for some, er, a lot of hockey?
4 Harry Potter sequel — NOT. Hollywood is rocking with the news that Harry Potter author J.K. Rowling is going to write her first screenplay about the world of wizards. Too bad it's about Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them, which really has nothing to do with Harry Potter, "the boy who lived," presumably to spawn a sequel... someday. Rowling seems to have a perverse need to deny her millions of fans the one thing they do want. Curses! As in Avada Kedavra!

5 From Russia, with petulance. Russian President Vladimir Putin has the nerve to preach to America about being good global citizens and avoiding military action in Syria in an op-ed piece in the New York Times. His article has the unanticipated side-effect of doing what President Obama has never been able to do: Unite the fractious U.S. Congress. A Republican senator believes Ronald Reagan is turning over in his grave, while a Democratic senator said the article nearly made him vomit. No word on a sequel.

6 Ain't gonna study war no more. After flying 156 missions and helping to rescue 149 people, Prince William is retiring from his job as a U.K. military rescue chopper pilot after seven-and-a-half years. He will now shift his focus to rescuing endangered animals — he has recorded a video calling for an end to the ivory and rhino horns trade. Presumably his other hazardous duty will include getting up in the middle of the night to change the royal diapers on baby George.

RE: Rape Not One Of The Three R's, says Paul Sullivan, published Sept. 12

"The tongue of the wise commends knowledge, but the mouth of the fool gushes folly." In wake of the "pro-rape chant" disgrace at SMU and UBC lately, it seems evident to me that universities have become hotbeds of foolishness, instead of the bastions of wisdom. I agree that the university leadership's reaction is one similar to the deer in headlights. They've long known that stupid behaviour such as this has been around the campus — it's only now that it gets widespread public attention outside that they act.

Synopsis

Once again the story focuses on the Lambert family — wife Renai (Rose Byrne), husband Josh (Patrick Wilson), kids Dalton and Foster (Ty Simpkins and Andrew Astor) and grandma Lorraine (Barbara Hershey). After the haunting events of the first movie they have moved in an effort to put the past behind them. Unfortunately they can't escape the ghosts who are attracted to what Josh has — life! Increasingly terrifying encounters with spirits threatens not only Josh's safety but the safety of everyone who comes into contact with him.

Where are the scares?

Insidious: Chapter 2.

A confusing story and clunky dialogue get in the way of the thrills and chills in James Wan's film

Richard: Mark, jumping around in time and between the realm of the living and the great beyond, this story will be confusing to anyone who hasn't seen the original. But say what you will about the storytelling, no one else makes mainstream horror films like James Wan. Maybe it's best to think of Insidious: Chapter 2 as like taking a walk through a haunted house. The exhilaration comes from the scares, not the walk. Did it make your spine tingle?

Mark: No, Richard, I was too busy trying to decipher what was going on. My spine doesn't tingle when it's exhausted. I do think Wan was ambitious in juggling all those space and time plots, and his atmospheric were first rate. But I actually might criticize the acting here — there were a lot of clunky line readings. Lin Shaye, however, as the ghostly clairvoyant, steals the picture whenever she's onscreen. And Barbara Hershey? Hottest grandma ever!

RC: Ha! There may be the odd clunky line reading, but with her delicate features and downturned mouth, Rose Byrne does shock face like no one else. I also liked Patrick Wilson. He looks like the clean-cut guy next door, but when he's inhabited by evil spirits, boy, does he get ornery! I also liked that it was a horror film that doesn't rely on gore to get a rise out of the audience. The plasma budget must have been practically zero, but what it lacks in gore it makes up for in smoke, shadows and eerie red doors.

MB: Yes, no gore; Wan has certainly moved on from Saw. But what you call shock face I might call overacting, and seeing Patrick Wilson cast against type is a bit of a mixed blessing. But in the end, it's still a story about possession and hauntings, and we might just be at the saturation point of the genre. The creaky old house doesn't help. Someday someone's going to set a film like this in an airy modernist penthouse, illustrating the horrors of light and white leather sofas.

RC: And they'll call it A Haunting at Ikea: The Mournful Tale of Billy the Wobbly Bookcase! I think I'll stick to the old school creaky house with a dark basement for ghouls to hide in.

MB: Dark basements are scary, but so are balconies on the 40th floor. I'm not sure where I'd find the ghouls more dangerous!

The Art of the Steal.

Jay Baruchel had a great time on set with co-star Kurt Russell

scene@metronews.ca

"You show up on set and you look over here and there's Kurt Russell and there's Terence Stamp," says Jay Baruchel of shooting his new film The Art of the Steal. "And you think, 'I have a pretty cool gig.'"

The heist film sees Kurt Russell and Matt Dillon as Crunch and Nicky Calhoun, brothers and art thieves who haven't worked together since Nicky snitched on Crunch and sent him to prison. Years later they team up to steal one of the world's rarest books, but will the job lead to more double-crossing?

Baruchel co-stars in this twisty-turny movie as Crunch's sidekick and protégé, which meant he got to spend a great deal of time with Russell.

"It's one of these things where if we didn't get along at all we would find a way to fake it but what really helped is that we were two Chatty Cathys. I would ask him every conceivable thing. Every John Carpenter story. Stuff about Tango and Cash. Stuff about Tombstone, one of my very favourite movies of all time.

"He was cool to talk about all of it so whenever cut was called Kurt and I would go outside and have a cigarette and talk. We talked about everything. We talked about politics. We talked movies, sports. He's a Canadianophile as well, so the man has some real Canadian bona fides. So when it comes time to say action, there's an energy, a connection, a shorthand because we enjoy one another's company.

"It can be faked, but it's way less fun and way more work."

Working with one of his heroes wasn't the only reason Baruchel signed on.

"Like any job I take, I look at the opportunity," he says. "I look at who I'm going to work with, what it's about and where it's going to be and would I pay money to see it. This checked every box on my criteria."

Chief among those yardsticks is a strong Canadian element. The actor is a vocal supporter of the homegrown industry who says, "We need to make more movies here that take place here and we will not hide our Canadian-ness."

The Art of the Steal fits the bill. It was shot in Niagara Falls, a place he calls "a very specific part of the world, equal parts gorgeous and seedy and strange and disarming. The whole thing is a back lot. You put a camera there anywhere and you have production value up your ass."

Action/Comedy

The Family

Director. Luc Besson

Stars. Robert De Niro, Michelle Pfeiffer

This fish-out-of-water story sees The Manzonis: Maggie (Michelle Pfeiffer), Belle (Diane Aron), Warren (John D'Leo) and father, hit-man-turned-stoolie Giovanni (Robert De Niro), in witness protection in Normandy. Overseen by an FBI handler (Tommy Lee Jones), they try and fit in. Trouble is, they don't blend. The Family is a Bobby D mob flick, so it isn't terrible, and co-star Michelle Pfeiffer, brings back fond memories of Married to the Mob, but the film teases us with visions of De Niro in gangster mode and lets us down with a paint-by-numbers story. RICHARD CROUSE

In the new comedy We're the Millers, the Friends star, now 44, plays an aging stripper who pretends to be a mom, to help a schlub (Jason Sudakis) smuggle weed out of Mexico. The film has proven a monster hit, making the actress big again at the multiplex. Metro's papers in Mexico recently sat down with Jennifer Aniston to talk about the film.

life, it's part of the development of the world — that if I get married, if I am mad with somebody, if I am pregnant ... that shouldn't be that important. I think people should pay more attention to other stuff, because nothing is what it seems; we are not as magnificent as you might think.

Your character in the film,

Rose, doesn't leave much to the imagination.

The character is a stripper and I have to do a sensual dance. I have been in several clubs and had an amazing choreographer who taught me this beautiful dance I perfected for weeks and weeks. It wasn't easy to do it; I was quite intimidated, but in the end I think it wasn't so bad, is it?

I went to a gym for weeks and weeks — the coach put me on a strict diet and that gives you certain confidence. The hardest part was to go up the stairs in a sexy way.

Is comedy a genre that attracts you or has it been accidental?

I love to make people laugh. It's something I really like and comedies are something very fun. I made a few dramas, but I think I tend to gravitate toward comedies because they fit me.

Idris Elba's turn as Nelson Mandela in Mandela: Long Walk to Freedom made its big debut at the Toronto International Film Festival this month with clear awards aspirations. Elba is far from the first actor to take on Mandela's inspiring story — he's been portrayed on screen more than a dozen times — but he could be the first man to win an Oscar for playing him. Here's how some of his previous on-screen incarnations measured up.

NED EHRBAR

Metro World News in Hollywood

George Harris: Prisoners of Conscience (1981)

A familiar face from the Harry Potter and Indiana Jones franchises, Harris was the first English-language speaker to play Mandela, in an episode of this BBC political documentary series. Released while Mandela was still in prison, it's nearly impossible to find a copy of Prisoners of Conscience today.

Danny Glover: Mandela (1987)

Airing three years before Mandela's release from prison, this HBO original film featured Lethal Weapon's Glover alongside Alfre Woodard as Winnie, chronicling his rise to prominence and incarceration. The high-profile film scored Glover an Emmy nomination.

Sidney Poitier: Mandela and de Klerk (1997)

What a cast here: Academy Award-winner Poitier stars alongside Michael Caine (as South African president F.W. de Klerk). It details the behind-the-scenes negotiations that led to the legalization of the African National Congress — and Mandela's release. Like Glover, Poitier was nominated for an Emmy.

Dennis Haysbert: Goodbye Bafana (2007)

The president from 24 playing the president! Haysbert is pitted against Joseph Fiennes' racist prison guard, whose detail guarding Mandela brings about a change of heart.

8 Onscreen Nelson Mandelas

Clarke Peters: Endgame (2009)

The end of apartheid — and the behind-the-scenes negotiations that brought about its end — is examined again, this time with Mandela taking more of a supporting role. The Wire vet Peters, starring opposite William Hurt and Jonny Lee Miller of Elementary, embodies Mandela as his time in prison comes to an end.

Morgan Freeman: Invictus (2009)

In the role he was destined to play, Freeman is Mandela as newly-elected president and attempts to unite post-Apartheid South Africa through a love of rugby. Freeman would be nominated for an Oscar, alongside co-star Matt Damon.

Terrence Howard: Winnie (2011)

Mandela's second wife Winnie Madikizela-Mandela is the star here, played by Jennifer Hudson. The film details her childhood, her own incarceration and struggles with adversity both during Mandela's imprisonment and afterward. Howard (Iron Man) plays Mandela as a charmboat.

Idris Elba: Mandela: Long Walk to Freedom (2013)

Expected to be the definitive biopic, this awards-hopeful follows Mandela from childhood to his first presidential inauguration — with Skyfall co-star Naomie Harris as Winnie. It's based on Mandela's own 1994 memoir. Stringer Bell for best actor?

3 songs for the weekend you need to hear

SOUND CHECK
Alan Cross
scene@metronews.ca

It's an all-Canadian affair today with a mix of vets and newcomers.

Reservoir / Pup

This new Toronto four-piece is being noticed by websites around the planet. This is honest, unvarnished rock 'n' roll, complete with blemishes. Acquaint yourself now.

King of Copenhagen / The Mahones

They've been on their Angels & Devils album for more than a year now. Their latest video was pasted together from nothing but fan-shot footage. Well done!

Arrows of Desire / Matthew Good

Matt's new album is a back-to-basics affair, inspired in part by his favourite Pixies and Husker Du records. Arrows of Desire will be out Sept. 24.

Aguilera bettered by Africa aid trip

Rwanda. Pop star, who was there on a World Hunger Relief effort, needed time away from cameras and was glad to help those less fortunate Hunger Relief effort since 2009, and has also travelled to Haiti and Guatemala. She said being a mother — she has a five-year-old son, Max — made her feel more empathetic for those suffering from hunger around the world.

"It's so sad to think there's nothing that sets any of us apart," she said. "And when you go into the field, you really see that and feel that we're all one in the same, it's just we're born under different circumstances, and it's sad and I don't understand why, but I feel what I feel and I did what I can."

Christina Aguilera says that although she went to Rwanda to help others, she ended up helping herself. The 32-year-old singer visited Rwanda in June for a hunger relief effort. She said the experience helped her ground herself.

"It came at a time in my life when I really needed to be far removed from anything to do with work or being on camera," the Grammy winner said in a recent interview. "It came at a time in my life when I needed to sort of experience what's going on with the world beyond entertainment."

Aguilera has been a spokesperson for Yum! Brands' World

On her Rwanda trip, The Voice mentor served food to children and visited refugee camps, which she called "one of the most difficult moments."

"They had to escape everything and everybody they knew and loved, and it's just a lot to really open yourself up and feel all that," she said, on the brink of tears. "And you just want to help out in whatever way that you can." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

He's a little bit country, a little bit rock

Fuse. Aussie country rocker Keith Urban took chances teaming up with eight different producers on his varied, latest record

Keith Urban didn't need to change a thing. With an enviable consistency, the American Idol judge remains a platinum-selling, arena-filling guitar slinger after spinning hits for 15 years — not to mention the movie-star wife and the Dorian Gray good looks. Yet when it came time to record his latest album, Urban decided to alter the formula even as he reached new peaks in popularity.

The deluxe version of Urban's new album, Fuse, is stuffed with 16 songs recorded with eight producers from widely different backgrounds. There are entries from Urban's longtime collaborator, country hit machine Dann Huff, but also tracks from a menagerie that includes rock and rap mainstay Mike Elizondo, Nashville maverick Jay Joyce, Norwegian hitmakers Stargate, Taylor Swift collaborator Nathan Chapman and rocker Butch Walker.

"I felt like an air traffic controller trying to land 16 planes," Urban said. Getting everything down on the tarmac took the 45-year-old Australian a year longer than expected. It's been three years since Urban released his last album, and he's long since missed the perfect marketing window his first year on Idol provided. He initially intended to meet with a large group, then settled on a single producer. Things got out of hand as Urban began to see the possibilities. "As I started working with different people, they'd bring out different things in me," Urban said. "I'd play different for Butch Walker than I would for Dann Huff. I'd sing a little different for Stargate than I would for Jay Joyce. So I thought, 'Let's keep going on this a bit longer.'"

Urban's seventh album still sounds very much like a Keith Urban album. He said his goal wasn't to have Walker write a rock song, but to meld sounds and ideas to update and diversify his music.

"I realize now, particularly after this journey, apparently I love hokey songs," Urban said. "I love choruses. I love guitar riffs. I love particular grooves and rhythms and I like them being prominent. I love acoustic instrumentation fused with electronic-type instruments.

If I was to label it, I'd probably say it feels like a progressive crossover country album, 2014."

Joyce said Urban dropped by his Nashville studio for a visit. He was drawn to Urban's energy, and like the singer, he loves to mix things up in the studio. "It was different because he's really heavily involved," said Joyce, who works with artists as diverse as Eric Church, Cage the Elephant and Amos Lee. "And I kind of admire anybody that's willing to push themselves musically and not try to think of it as this record is just a means to keep the train going, making the music be first. I think it's brave."

Urban agrees he could have taken the safe route, but didn't see his approach as much of a gamble. Fuse hits during one of the most creative points in Urban's life. He's finishing up a tour, preparing for a second season on Idol and is raising two young girls with his wife, Nicole Kidman. The album is simply Urban embracing the possibilities life has presented him.

Cheating in the U.S.A? Has Hemsworth got hands in January's cookie jar?

Rumours about Liam Hemsworth stepping out on fiancée Miley Cyrus are resurfacing after the Hunger Games star reportedly sent a rather forward text message to January Jones, according to Us Weekly. "I want to f--- you," Hemsworth allegedly wrote to the Mad Men actress, with whom he was reportedly spotted making out at an Oscars after-party earlier this year. Hemsworth's rep, however, insists it's all nonsense. "The story of Liam Hemsworth and January Jones is entirely fabricated by US Weekly. There is no truth whatsoever to this tabloid fiction," the rep says in a statement.

Does Cara light up Harry's world like nobody else?

Harry Styles reportedly has a new lady in his life. The One Direction member has been dating Cara Delevingne "for around two weeks," according to E! Online. "Harry's been chasing Cara nonstop. He really likes her and has been saying that he wants to be exclusive with her," a source says. But right now, Cara is not sure what to do. "She's finding her feet right now. They are seeing each other though, casually, and are actually very cute together. He's really chasing her, but she's a really busy girl," the source says.

"At 66, she never thought he'd be her type, but she really likes him." And apparently the same goes for her daughters. "The girls are glad Demi is dating someone older than herself for once," the source adds.

Katherine Heigl

Cinematic source says Heigl, 'can cost you time every single day of shooting'

According to several film and TV insiders, Katherine Heigl is too difficult and demanding to work with, telling the Hollywood Reporter that casting the former Grey's Anatomy actress is "not worth it." A source from her 2010 film Life As We Know It says, "She can cost you time every single day of shooting.

Wardrobe issues, not getting out of the trailer, questioning the script every single day." And a TV executive says Heigl's reputation kept her out of consideration for a role in a new series. "On many levels, she would have been perfect for the role, but all of us said, 'She's not worth it,'" the exec says.

Our Royal Mint will be releasing coins to celebrate the 75th anniversary of Clark Kent's alter ego, and it got me thinking about a style of wine that also has a reputation for being super.

Italy's super Tuscans were conceived back in the 1970s as a liquid rebellion against the Chianti region's archaic winemaking regulations. Some winemakers went rogue by growing and then blending local and global grape varieties.

While Italians initially turned their collective noses up at this sacrilege, they were a hit everywhere else. Soon they were commanding prices as high as Italy's best, which earned them the heroic nickname.

It isn't legally defined terminology, so any winery in Tuscan adding non-traditional grapes to their blend can claim super Tuscan status. That's made it easier to find a drinkable version that doesn't break the bank.

The 2008 Monte Antico Toscana IGT ($15.95 to $18.99) is primarily sangiovese with a small portion of both merlot and cabernet sauvignon. The result is a rich wine with deep plum and black cherry core that offers terrific value.

A classic with pizza, it's equally at home paired with most red meats.

Spoiler alert: Mooseheads fall 4-0 in home opener

QMUHL. Herd gives flat performance after historic banners raised to Metro Centre rafters

andrew.rankin@metronews.ca

It wasn't supposed to unfold like this.

After an emotionally charged banner-raising ceremony to celebrate their past President and Memorial Cup season, the Halifax Mooseheads appeared destined for victory.

But the visiting Moncton Wildcats had other ideas, spoiling the Herd's home opener with a three-goal first period, en route to a 4-0 win before 9,301 fans at the Metro Centre on Thursday night.

"We're not here to make excuses, we're here to play our game; that wasn't the type of game we know we can play, and it's disappointing," said

Mooseheads veteran forward Luca Ciampini. "But there's no doubt that we're going to be a competitive hockey team."

With guns blazing from the get-go, the visitors wasted no time taking advantage of a team that met them flat-footed. Though emerging in the second period a refocused squad, the Mooseheads were unable to capitalize on several scoring chances.

Then the Wildcats scored another goal in the final frame, extending their lead to 4-0.

Despite his disappointment, Ciampini pointed out some positives.

"We had a slow start and they got a couple bounces their way. I thought we got better as the game gradually went on. We were snake-bitten. But we're a much better team than we showed."

Mooseheads forward Nikolaj Ehlers said his team simply wasn't ready.

"We had a bad start and we never really got into the game again," he said. "We need some more games; we need more time to get to know each other. What we did today is not close to the effort we're capable of."

Cody Drover led Moncton with a pair of goals while Ivan Barbashev and Ryan Penny also tallied for the Wildcats.

Moncton goalie Alex Dubeau racked up 28 saves for the shutout while Mooseheads netminder Kevin Darveau stopped 28 shots in the loss.

It didn't help the Mooseheads' cause that Zach Fucale, Brent Andrews and MacKenzie Weegar were out of the lineup at NHL camps and Darcy Ashley was sidelined with a hand injury.

The Mooseheads hit the road Friday to face the Charlottetown Islanders at 7 p.m.

Banner raising. Moose's championship banners raised in moving ceremony

You know it's going to be a big night when Jody Shelley shows up to the rink.

That it was.

It was fitting that Shelley, perhaps the all-time most popular Moosehead, was at ice surface to watch the 2013 President and Memorial Cup banners being raised to the rafters. A pair of other franchise favourites in Jason King and Travis Randell joined him.

The moment came after an electric and moving tribute video was played on the big screen, capturing each historic moment along that remarkable run.

With a fired-up crowd, the Herd gathered together to watch the banners rise.

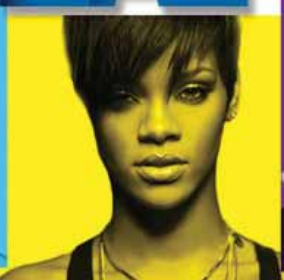

"It was special," said Halifax forward Luca Ciampini. "The boys were kind of emotional watching it. It's a nice reminder for us and all the fans and everyone who ever played here."

"Seeing the trophy and the banners has motivated us. We're not here to just play hockey, we're here to win."

QB kin riding high for Manning Bowl

Brotherly love. Peyton and Eli maintain a close relationship throughout the bright lights of the NFL

Peyton Manning loves Eli's game, and not just because he's his little brother.

As a fellow NFL quarterback, he appreciates the way Eli has improved every year despite an ever-changing supporting cast, all while working under the bright glare of Broadway.

Oh, and those two Super Bowl rings are pretty sweet, too. Big brother has just one of those.

The siblings square off Sunday at MetLife Stadium, the third — and quite possibly last — time they'll face each other in the pros. Peyton came out on top in the first two, with his old team, the Indianapolis Colts, beating the New York Giants in 2006 and 2010.

Peyton, 37, sees Eli, 32, through the dual prism of blood and quarterback brotherhood, and he's thoroughly impressed by the view.

"Eli is a great player," Peyton said. "He's a consistent player. I think he's gotten better every year."

The Mannings talk twice a week on average — last season they played the same divisions in the NFC and AFC, so they shared notes on those common opponents.

"Usually we'll talk on Sunday or Monday after the previous game and then we'll kind of talk maybe Thursday or Friday kind of about the upcoming game," Peyton said. "We've always done that. We'll share."

Not this week.

They both said there was no football dialogue leading up to Manning Bowl III, just the typical bantering among brothers. There's been enough chatter from everyone else. Aside from the "first family of football" angle, this is the first game in NFL history pitting quarterbacks who threw for 400-plus yards the previous week.

Peyton threw for 462 yards and tied an NFL record with seven touchdown passes against Baltimore. Like Peyton, Eli also completed 27 of 42 throws, and he accumulated 450 yards at Dallas but had three interceptions to go with four TDs.

Romo suffers bruised ribs in game against Giants

Tony Romo played through broken ribs to help keep the season afloat for Dallas in 2011.

The injury isn't as serious this time, which means the task doesn't appear as daunting for the Cowboys quarterback.

Romo has bruised ribs after he was crunched between two defenders late in the first half of a 36-31 win over the New York Giants in the opener. He played the second half and says he's just dealing with soreness heading into Sunday's game at Kansas City.

The offence didn't do much when Romo returned — just 98 yards after halftime.

Horoscopes

♈ Aries

March 21 - April 20

One area of your life will grind to a halt and maybe even go into reverse today. You may not be happy about it but what can you do? Sometimes you just have to accept what occurs.

♉ Taurus

April 21 - May 21

Life is not and never will be a level playing field — some people are good at things that others will never master. Once you accept that, you can just get on with your life.

♊ Gemini

May 22 - June 21

You enjoy causing waves and something you say today will no doubt infuriate people who don't share your views. You need to remind them that their opinions, while valid, are not the be all and end all.

♋ Cancer

June 22 - July 23

You cannot change the world, so don't waste time trying. What you do do though is change your own way of looking at the world. If your outlook is positive, your future will be positive too.

♌ Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

The winds of change are blowing at gale force and if you don't hold onto something, there is a chance you might get swept away. What is most stable in your life? Grasp it.

♍ Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

There are things going on behind the scenes that will change your world in major ways but that is no reason to worry. Looking back later in the year, you will realize how wonderful they were.

♎ Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Someone you don't get along with will make their usual fuss today and you should tell them that you've had enough of their dramatics. If they don't shut up then ship them out.

♏ Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

It takes courage to choose a different path when the one you are on is so familiar but there is no other choice. If you don't change now, you could be stuck with the same old routine for years to come.

♐ Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

A plan you had high hopes for will have to be put on the back burner for a while. According to the planets, it needs more time to mature in your mind.

♑ Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

Everything that happens in life is part of the grand design. Remember that and you won't go wrong. If you want to win at the game of life, you must let go and trust the universe.

♒ Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

You may be sad that a friend is moving away but the space their departure leaves will be filled by someone else. Life is never static, nor are relationships. You may not like change but ultimately it is good.

♓ Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

You may be the sort who can bluff your way through most situations but the planets warn you have bitten off more than you can chew this time. A penalty of some kind will have to be paid before you can move on. SALLY BROMPTON
